

STEPHEN FINKEL PHOTOGRAPHY

Synchro Sound 612-SL Movie Camera

The Synchro Sound 612-SL Movie camera was manufactured in 1978 in Japan. It has a sound and silent super 8 cartridge.

Specifications:

Lens: Shinkor Zoom f: 1.2 \ F: 8-48 mm

Zooming ratio: 6x

Focusing: fixed

Macro focusing: yes

Zooming: auto and manual

Viewfinder: single-lens reflex with adjustable eyepiece

Viewfinder information: over and under-exposure warning signal (red LED), recording level indicator

Exposure: fully auto exposure control; TTL EE, CdS cell

Backlight control (BLC): yes

Exposure compensation: +/- correction for auto

Film speed: auto for 25/40 and 100/160 ASA only (daylight/tungsten)

CCA filter: built-in 85A filter, with filter cancellation switch

Filming speed: 18 fps

Sound: single-system, magnetic recording on super 8 film

Audio gain control (AGC): auto

Sound jacks: Microphone and Monitor

Remote control socket: yes

Movie light socket: screw type

Film talking signal: LED

Battery check button: LED

Handle: fixed, chamber for penlight batteries

Power source: 6 x AA batteries or rechargeable NC batteries

External power jack: 9 V DC for recharger

Weight: 1220 g

Dimensions: 65 x 203 x 220 mm

Tripod socket: 1/4"

